SUSPECT ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH QUIGLEY DEATH

Sheriff T. A. DeVine this afternoon received a telegram from Sheriff J. A.
Zundel of Montello that Whitney O' Brien, who is wanted here in connection with the death of Patrick Quigley, had been arrested and that he had stated that he would return to Ogden without requisition papers. Sheriff DeVine and Chief of Police T. E.
Browning left this afternoon for Mon-tello.

It is known that O'Brien was seen with Quigley, Tuesday afternoon, and it is thought he was either implicated in the murder or that he can throw some light on the whereabouts of O'Brien during the night. The officers are determined to ascertain whether Quigley was murdered and locate the persons who committed the deed. A number of arrests have been made and the officers are of the opinion that when the shaking up among a certain gang of loafers in the city has been completed, the mystery will be solved and the guilty parties brought to justice.

The suspicious characters in the city jail are said to be men who have been associated since last fall, and have been living in certain shacks in out-of-the-way places. These strangers had previously visited a number of the construction camps and made acquaintances with the workmen.
When the construction men came to town, they would be invited to the shacks. If the workman resisted when attempts were made to rob them, they would be beaten up.

which is in session at Denver, according to advices received in Ogden last night. His principal theme was cooperation and concerning this, he said:

"There is always a time when na-combine their strength to fight for the common cause and to protect their vital interests. And in that desired combination there must be a concrete joining of forces that will stand for are of vital importance to our membership. That is why the National Association of Retail Grocers was organized—to lend strength to the cry of the weak—to right a wrong, to pre-

"Man cannot live alone—no indi-ready to act at a moment's notice, ready to extend the helping hand

Speaking further, the Ogden mer-

"The association and its members realize that the future stability and largely on the influence it may exercise in the establishment and enforcement of laws that may be necessary
